Once upon a time, way
back in September 1971,
there lived a hermit named
Charles the Lonely. One day
Sylvester the wizard happened to stop in Charles'
cave to ask for a place to rest. Charles, not knowing that Sylvester had magical
powers, ordered Sylvester out of his cave. Shocked by such a reception Sylvester

cast a spell on Charles, turning him into a dragon. Charles begged Sylvester to change
him back to his human form.
The wizard agreed if Charles could locate a certain
magic: The MAGIC
of ALVERNIA

Class of '72

After Charles arrived at the Alvernia Castle & saw the many wonderful & exciting things taking place, he tried to discover the magic that Sylvester had spoken of. "Maybe" thought Charles, "I should start at the top, with the elders of the Castle, those referred to as the Class of '72. They seem so sure of themselves, so knowledgeable.

Possibly the magic of Alvernia could be the

Special Events

Thus far Charles' search seemed fruitless. "Could I be going about this in the wrong way? Maybe I should be looking for magic not in the spirit of people, but in the spirit caused by their activities." So often he had heard that word "spirit" used in Alvernia to describe a rather magical feeling. So Charles set out to look through

some of the special events
of Alvernia in a search for
the MAGIC of SPRICE

YEAR STARTS IN MASS CONFUSION

"Is it an A day?" "Does that clock have the right time?" "Can we wear slacks yet?" "What do I do with my purse insurance?" Alvernians frequently heard questions like these during the beginning of the '71-'72 school year. So many changes had taken place since the closing of the '71 year that at times the freshmen weren't the only people who felt lost. Introduction of Red Letter Days, and changes in the dress code and detention system, although temporarily confusing, promised an exciting and enriching school year

Tower Room Kids "Come Through"

For Alvernia's Student Council, the group of diligent working girls, often seem running to or from the tower room, the theme for this year should have been "Come Through" not "Break Through". Because come through is just what they did for the rest of Alvernia's student body, by proposing and passing a number of innovative bills, such as dress code and peanut butter sandwiches for lunch. The structure of A.S.C., including CVC representatives and committee workers, insures that the average Alvernian feels herself a functioning part of the school.

Liturgy Strengthens Tradition at Alvernia

Liturgy at Alvernia plays an important role in tradition of the school. The several all-school masses during the year, especially at Thanksgiving and Christmas, bring across a strong spirit of unity. The four years of religious experiences seem to be drawn together in senior year by the Crucifix Ceremony. In 1971 the ceremony, held on November 22, although basically a traditional celebration, set a tone that was maintained thru the final liturgical gathering of the year, the Baccalaureate Mass

Education - An Evolving Process

Education at Alvernia is not static. Certain changes that had been in the planning stages during the past year were initiated as parts of the curriculum in September. One such change was the introduction of Red Letter Days. Approximately every fifth day normal classes were replaced by excursions, open labs, and special assemblies - all geared to broaden the educational experience.

Joint student-faculty committees were initiated this year, investigating various alternatives to education as it is known at Alvernia. Some of the programs the committees researched, such as mini-courses and interdisciplinary projects will be experimented with next year.

EXPERIMENT: WONDER. one such alternative, is already in its developing stages. The basic philosophy of WONDER is that rigid classes can be replaced with a free atmosphere where much emphasis is placed on first hand experience. The project is growing, with both students and faculty becoming more involved.

LIFE IN THE GYM

The Alvernia Athletic Association, largest club in the school, is the organization responsible for the after school life in the gym. Sponsoring activities ranging from basketball games to horseback riding to the annual Jr-Sr ski trip, the A.A.A. is a catalyst for the development of school spirit.

CHRISTMAS MAGIC - CANDYCANES AND DREAMS

Christmas season always brings a certain aura of magic to Alvernia. This magic transformed the first floor corridor to Candycane Lane, the lockers to art masterpieces, and the Junior-Senior lounge to Santa's Village. Most surprisingly, for a day Mr. Liam Duggan disappeared altogether and Santa appeared in his place. With Colleen Sheridan and her Social Committee selling candycanes and dressing up as elves, the magic cast its spell on everyone. Numerous projects, one being the "TOYS FOR TOTS" drive, completed the picture. Christmas magic extended past the Christmas assembly right up until December 23 for about 300 juniors and seniors. "A Hazy Shade of Winter", the annual Christmas Dance, held that night in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel turned the winter wonderland into dreamland for many

Class of '73

Charles's search through the Class of '72 was long but Charles didn't mind. He had met many of the revered "seniors," who showed him an enjoyable time, but he had not found the magic of Alvernia in experience. "Maybe experience is too limited. I have to find some thing more universal, Charles thought. So the next place to look, he figured logically, would be the Class of '73. From what he had heard this was the bold class, not afraid of too terribly much, always looking for challenge:

Charles was getting tired by the whirlwind life he was leading. It seemed it was impossible to look at the dances & plays & projects without taking part. So the dragon was all set to take a rest when he thought, "There are other people, in Alvernia, who seem to take a large part in the main function of the castle." They seemed older than the students & they seemed as if they knew much more. These people were the administration & faculty.

Class of '74

Again the search amounted to nothing but a great deal of pleasure. So Charles turned back to the remaining two classes. "The Class of '74 appears to have a certain amount of self-assurance, a larger amount of unity, and a spirit not to be stopped by minor setbacks," Charles recalled. "And, like me, they seem to be looking for something, searching for a secure place in the bustle of Alvernia. Here I will look for the...

Special Events

This search, too, did not satisfy Charles. "Maybe I missed something while I was taking part in the events" Charles reasoned. "I was so busy looking for spirit that I really didn't enjoy myself. Maybe I should have been more involved." So Charles went back to more of the special events to look for the

MAGIC of INVOLVEMENT.

As any student knows, projects, assemblies, and activities don't "just happen". Much time is involved in planning a well-organized, but "fun" event. This job seems to fall into the hands of the Assemblies, Social, and Community Service Committees. Involving both students and faculty in various projects, these three branches of Student Council help to make the school come alive. It is these committees that make Alvernia less of a "eight to three" organization and more of a circadian (around the day) function.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER DINNER

April 26, 1972

"PRECIOUS AND FIRM..."

Even though "the big night" was overcast and chilly, the Juniors' spirits weren't dampened. The Ring Dance, held on April 14, was a great success. Preceded three days earlier by the Ring Ceremony, the dance took place at the Starlight Inn. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves—taking pictures, and drinking water & Cokes. It was hard to believe at the end of the evening that the event which was so eagerly anticipated was over.

"BELLS
ARE RINGING"

It took the combined efforts of the Drama and Music Departments, but in April 1972 Alvernia presented the first musical attempted at the school since 1967, "BELLS ARE RINGING". Directed by Miss Mary Rose Matus, with musical direction by Sister Shirley Marie Patzelt, the play revolved around the story of Ella Peterson, an answering service girl who didn't consider it a crime "to help old ladies cross the street". Ella was portrayed on alternate nights by Paula Coughlin and Gwen Digby, supported by a cast of their senior classmates.

Besides the cast, a large number of girls from all levels formed the chorus, performing numbers including "It's a Simple Little System" and "Hello, Hello There". Many other students got involved in the play through production committees, which took care of costumes, make-up, props, sets, etc.

The effort and time of all these Alvernians, as well as the volunteered services of the male members of the cast, were well appreciated by the audiences, many of whom left the theatre echoing the words of the last solo - "I'm Goin' Back."

GRADUATION-JUNE 9, 1972

"The past is
for remembering..."

Class of '75

Charles had only one place left to search, the Class of '75. Certainly he had a good time helping the sophomores in their search and having them help him. But it still wasn't the magic of Alvernia. "All I have left is the youngest of the school. Yet they seem to possess a kind of freshness, of originality, even though they seem so shy.

Here obviously I can find the MAGIC of YOUTH."

Time had run out. It was June. The castle was going to close for the summer. Charles felt sad, not only because he didn't find his magic & had to remain a dragon, but he had begun to feel a certain love for Alvernia, a feeling of belonging.

On the last day of school, at the last gathering, Charles stood at the back of the Auditorium. He saw for the last time all the people he met, people who helped him, the friends he had made. He stood quietly & watched the life & excitement. Suddenly he realized, he felt really happy.
